Getting around in Australia

Public Transport

- Cairns: The most common way to get around Cairns is the bus. Sunbus operates regular routes throughout the city and surrounding suburbs. You can buy single, daily, or weekly tickets. To buy a day bus ticket for Cairns, you can purchase a paper ticket from a Translink fare machine or use the MyTransLink app (download beforehand)
- Sydney: to use the public transport network, you'll need to either purchase an Opal card or use a contactless credit card, debit card or mobile device.
 - You can purchase the Opal card at the Sydney airport. There are also top-up machines at some train stations, light rail stops and ferry wharves.
- Melbourne offers free tram rides within the city centre (CBD) and the Docklands. These include the areas around Flinders Street, Spring Street, La Trobe Street, Spencer Street, Bourke Street, Elizabeth Street, Victoria Street, and William Street. Notable stops include Flinders Street Station, Federation Square, Queen Victoria Market, and Bourke Street Mall.
 - To use public transport outside of the free tram zone, you need to purchase a myki card.
 - You can purchase a myki card from retail outlets displaying the myki sign, visitor centres and at train stations. You'll need to load your card with some money to cover your fares. You can top it up at convenience stores and train stations as your balance runs low.

Cabs

Use an Uber to get around by a cab in Cairns, Sydney and Melbourne

Mobile Connectivity while in Australia

- There are 3 main SIM Card providers in Australia- Telstra, Optus and Vodafone
- I would recommend Telstra as it is best in terms of coverage
- The best place to buy a sim card is at the airport kiosks. If you have trouble locating it, head to a Telstra store
- Even if you do not purchase an international roaming plan for your current India number, remember to activate roaming so that you receive messages (important for things like OTPs).

Important Numbers

Here is a number that would be good to know when in Australia

- 000: Emergency service number for police, fire and ambulance
