Famous Local Italian Delicacies

- 1) Pizza especially the Napoletana Pizza
- 2) Pasta- including fettucine al pomodoro, gnocchi de patate
- 3) Risotto
- 4) Arancini- rice balls seared with ragu, cheese, and optional sides like aubergine, peas, etc.
- 5) Polenta- It is basically a corn mush that pairs well with meats, salads, and zuppa (soup).
- 6) Truffles- Italy's food culture is incomplete without truffles that have been dug up from the forests of Umbria, Piedmont and Tuscany. The rare ones are white in colour with a distinctive aroma while the black truffles that are more easily available are less fragrant.
- 7) Lasanga- layered pasta with veggies and sauce
- 8) Gelato

- 9) Foccacia- flatbread prepared with vegetables like onions, tomatoes, and olives with a drizzle of olive oil and pesto on top
- 10) Burrata- It tastes very similar to the traditional mozzarella cheese available in Italy with the only difference being that it is a lot creamier and buttery
- 11) Melanzane alla Parmigiana- It is made with thinly sliced aubergine that is then topped with cheese
- 12) Tiramisu- In a traditional tiramisù, the chef layers soft biscuits with espresso coffee, mascarpone cheese, sugar, egg, wine, rum, and cocoa powder.
- 13) Pannacotta
- 14) Bigoli in salsa (Venetian speciality)- long, thick, whole-wheat pasta called bigoli (or bigoi, if you ask a Venetian), coated in a sauce made of onions and salt-cured anchovies or sardines.
- 15) Risotto al nero di seppia-risotto with squid ink (Venetian speciality)
- 16) Risi e bisi (rice and peas) is a hearty, (classic Venetian dish)that you'll find as a starter at trattorias across the city, but it can often be a meal in itself.
