Must-Try Local Dishes

Street Food & Snacks:

- Dholl Puri: Arguably the most iconic Mauritian street food! These thin, soft flatbreads made from ground split peas are typically served in pairs, filled with a flavourful bean curry (gros pois), a tangy tomato chutney (satini pomme d'amour), and sometimes pickled vegetables (achard). You'll find vendors selling these everywhere, especially in markets and near bus stations.
- Roti (Farata): Another popular flatbread, often thicker and flakier than dholl puri. It's served with various curries (meat, fish, or vegetable) and chutneys. A satisfying and affordable meal on the go.
- Gateaux Piments (Chili Cakes): Crispy, deep-fried lentil cakes infused with fresh chilies and herbs like coriander and spring onions. They offer a spicy kick and are a perfect snack with a cold drink. Found in most local snack shops ("gato lakwizin").
- Samoosas: Triangular pastries filled with spiced vegetables, meat (chicken, beef, or lamb), or fish. A common snack with Indian origins, widely available.
- Bajia: Similar to pakoras, these are fritters made from various vegetables (eggplant, spinach, potatoes) coated in a spiced chickpea flour batter and deep-fried until golden brown.
- Mine Frites (Fried Noodles): A popular and satisfying dish with Chinese influence. Stir-fried egg noodles with vegetables, soy sauce, and often chicken, shrimp, or beef. You'll find variations everywhere.
- Boulettes (Dumplings): Another Chinese-inspired favourite. These steamed or boiled dumplings come in various forms, often made with fish, shrimp, or vegetables. Try the "boulettes chouchou" (chayote dumplings) which are particularly local. Served with a flavorful broth and chili sauce.
- Puri Bhaji: A North Indian dish that has become a Mauritian staple, especially for breakfast or a light meal. Deep-fried puffed bread (puri) served with a flavourful and slightly spicy potato curry (bhaji).
- Kulfi: A dense and creamy frozen dairy dessert, similar to ice cream but richer. Often flavoured with cardamom, pistachio, or mango. A refreshing treat on a warm day.

Main Dishes:

- Fish Vindaye: A tangy and flavourful fish curry marinated in mustard seeds, vinegar, garlic, ginger, and turmeric. Often made with tuna or other firm white fish. It's a dish that keeps well and the flavours deepen over time.
- Chicken or Seafood Curry (various styles): Mauritian curries are diverse, reflecting the island's Indian heritage. You'll find creamy coconut-based curries, spicy tomato-based curries, and everything in between, often featuring local spices like cumin, coriander, turmeric, and chili. Try a prawn curry, octopus curry, or a classic chicken curry.
- Lamb Rogan Josh: A rich and aromatic lamb curry with Kashmiri origins, adapted with local spices. Often slow-cooked until the lamb is tender and the sauce is deeply flavourful.
- Daube: A slow-cooked meat stew, often made with beef or pork, with vegetables like carrots, potatoes, and sometimes beans. It showcases the French influence on Mauritian cuisine.
- Rougaille: A tomato-based stew, often featuring sausages (saucisse), salt fish (poisson salé), or seafood. It's typically spiced with garlic, ginger, onions, and thyme and served with rice. "Rougaille poisson salé" is a particularly popular local version.
- Briani: A fragrant mixed rice dish cooked with meat (chicken, lamb, or fish), yogurt, saffron, and aromatic spices. Often served during special occasions and celebrations. The Mauritian briani has its own distinct flavour profile.

- Mine Bouillie (Boiled Noodles): A lighter noodle dish, often served in a flavorful broth with vegetables, meat or seafood, and garnished with fresh herbs. A comforting and wholesome meal.
- Palm Heart Salad (Salade de Palmiste): A delicacy made from the tender heart of the palm tree. It has a delicate, slightly nutty flavour and is often served as a salad with vinaigrette. Harvesting palm hearts is regulated to ensure sustainability.
- Smoked Marlin: Marlin is a popular fish in Mauritius, and smoked marlin is a delicious delicacy often served thinly sliced as an appetizer or in salads.

Drinks:

- Fresh Fruit Juices: Take advantage of the abundance of tropical fruits and enjoy freshly squeezed juices like pineapple, mango, papaya, and passion fruit.
- Alouda: A refreshing milky drink flavoured with agar-agar jelly, rose syrup, and sometimes basil seeds or vanilla. A popular local treat, especially on a hot day.
- Sugarcane Juice: Freshly pressed sugarcane juice is a naturally sweet and refreshing drink, readily available from street vendors.
- Mauritian Rum: As mentioned in the souvenir guide, Mauritian rum is excellent. Try local brands and explore different varieties, including spiced rum and "rhum arrangé" (infused rum).
- Phoenix Beer: The local beer of Mauritius, a crisp and refreshing lager that pairs well with the local cuisine.
- Bois Chéri Tea: A locally grown tea, especially the vanilla-flavoured black tea, is a popular choice.

Cultural Etiquette & Useful Local Phrases

To ensure a respectful and enjoyable experience in Mauritius, it's helpful to be aware of some cultural do's and don'ts:

Do's:

- Greet people politely: A simple "Bonjour" (good day) or "Bonsoir" (good evening) followed by a handshake is generally appreciated. .
- Dress modestly when visiting religious sites: When visiting temples, mosques, or churches, it's important to dress respectfully. This usually means covering your shoulders and knees. Some sites may provide shawls or require you to remove your shoes before entering.
- Bargain respectfully in markets: In local markets, bargaining is a common practice. However, do so politely and with a smile. Start with a reasonable offer (around a quarter to a third of the initial price) and negotiate gently. Avoid being aggressive or trying to haggle excessively over small amounts.
- Be mindful of noise levels: While Mauritians are generally friendly and expressive, be mindful of noise levels in public places, especially in residential areas and during religious ceremonies.
- Respect religious customs and festivals: If you happen to be in Mauritius during a religious festival, be respectful of the traditions and customs being observed. Avoid loud behaviour or photography that might be intrusive.

Don't's

- Don't wear revealing clothing in public places: While Mauritius is a tropical island, it's generally advisable to dress modestly when you're not at the beach or in your resort.
- Don't be overly loud or boisterous in public: While Mauritians are warm and friendly, excessive noise or rowdy behaviour in public places can be considered impolite.
- Don't take photos of people without their permission: Always ask for permission before taking someone's photograph, especially in local villages or during religious ceremonies.
- Don't criticize local customs or traditions: Be respectful of the local culture, even if it differs from your own. Avoid making negative comments or comparisons.
- Don't enter religious sites without appropriate attire: As mentioned earlier, ensure you are dressed modestly before entering temples, mosques, or churches.
- Don't litter: Mauritius is a beautiful island, and it's important to help keep it clean. Dispose of your trash responsibly.
- Don't be impatient or demanding: Mauritian culture generally has a more relaxed pace. Be patient and understanding, especially when dealing with services.

Common Mauritian Phrases (in Creole):

Learning a few basic Creole phrases will be appreciated and can enhance your interactions with locals:

- Bonjour: Bonzour (Good day/Hello)
- Bonsoir: Bonswar (Good evening)

- Comment ça va?: Ki manier? (How are you?)
- Au revoir: Orevoir (Goodbye)
- S'il vous plaît: Si ou plé (Please)
- Merci: Mersi (Thank you)

Personal Safety & Emergency Contacts

While Mauritius is generally considered a safe and welcoming destination, it's always wise to be prepared and aware of your surroundings.

Personal Safety Tips:

- Be Aware of Your Surroundings: Pay attention to your belongings and the people around you, especially in crowded areas like markets, bus stations, and tourist hotspots.
- Secure Your Valuables: Avoid displaying large amounts of cash or expensive jewellery. Keep your valuables (passport, money, credit cards) secure in a hotel safe or a concealed money belt.
- Carry Copies of Important Documents: Keep a photocopy of your passport, visa (if applicable), flight tickets, and travel insurance details separate from the originals. Store digital copies securely online or on your phone.
- Avoid Walking Alone at Night in Unlit or Isolated Areas: Stick to well-lit and populated areas after dark. If you need to travel at night, consider taking a registered taxi or arranging transportation through your hotel.
- Be Cautious with Strangers: Be wary of overly friendly strangers who approach you with unsolicited offers or stories. Avoid going to unfamiliar or secluded places with people you've just met.
- Protect Your Drinks: Never leave your drinks unattended and be cautious about accepting drinks from strangers to prevent drink spiking.
