Must-Try Vietnamese Dishes (Da Nang & Hoi An Favorites)

Vietnamese cuisine is flavorful, aromatic, and fresh. Here's a list of must-eat dishes you'll find in your itinerary or at featured restaurants:

Vietnamese Non Vegetarian dishes

- Phở - the quintessential Vietnamese dish, the word phở referring to the type of noodle used in the recipe. Flat rice noodles with boiled chicken in a hearty stock. This is usually a beef dish, but I have recommended above where you will get a great chicken pho
- Ga tan -a broth that's Vietnam's answer to the proverbial cup of chicken noodle soup
- Ga nuong -Honey marinated then grilled over large flaming barbecues, the chicken legs, wings and feet served are unusually tender, while the skin stays crispy but not dry.
- Banh Mi- Paté and margarine are spread swiftly across the soft, chewy interior of a baguette and later, the sandwich is loaded with pickled vegetables, fresh cilantro and cucumber. This is usually a pork dish, so I have recommended above where to get the chicken version!
- Cha ca – a speciality of Hanoi- sizzling chunks of fish seasoned with garlic, ginger, turmeric and dill on a hot pan tableside.
- Hoi An Chicken rice- Chicken and rice is a foolproof combination. But in Hoi An, this delicious duo is elevated using fresh ingredients from the countryside. Strips of tender chicken are shredded, mixed with flavoured fish sauce and onions to accompany a bowl of turmeric rice. Pickled shallots, radish and herbs are served on the side
- Nom hoa chui -Vietnam's banana flower salad packs a much bigger punch than a typical plate of mixed greens. Banana flowers (thick purple lumps that will later turn into bunches of bananas) are peeled and thinly sliced then mixed with green papaya, carrots, and cilantro along with chicken and a heavy-handed pour of a salty fish sauce dressing and crunchy peanuts.
- Xoi- Vietnamese sticky rice is a departure from other sticky rice interpretations in the region. The weighted, more dense glutinous staple is comes in a savoury or a sweet option
- gỏi cuốn – Vietnamese fresh spring rolls- The semi-transparent skin is made from softened sheets of rice paper. Encased within is a stack of leafy greens, mint, coriander, some form of protein and a stalk of garlic chive poking out from the snugly wrapped roll. (Ask for seafood or chicken options).
- Bún chả cá is a dish with many variations depending on where you find it. They all contain spaghetti-like rice vermicelli (bún), fish cakes (chả cá) and fresh herbs.

- Chè is a sweet dessert, served either hot or cold and in the form of a pudding or dessert soup. Cold chè is filled with jellied ingredients and tropical fruits such as bananas, mangoes and longan, usually doused in coconut cream. Always a textural adventure, you'll be surprised to encounter coconut shreds, crushed ice, lotus seed and jellies in these syrupy snacks.
- Hoa qua dam- This chunky blend of fresh tropical fruit in a cup is the perfect local treat. You can have the shaved ice version or the one in condensed milk.
- Nem ran- Vietnam's bite-sized crunchy spring rolls might not enjoy the same popularity as their healthier fresh equivalent, but they deserve a special mention. The crispy shell with a soft veggie and meat filling dunked in a tangy sauce
Make sure you ask for the crab or chicken Nem Ran because there are often pork nem ran.
- Banh khot -variation of a Vietnamese pancake has all the same tasty ingredients but is a fraction of the size. The crunchy outside is made using coconut milk and the filling usually consists of shrimp, mung beans, and spring onions with a dusting of dried shrimp flakes on top.
- Egg coffee- The creamy soft, meringue-like egg white foam perched on the dense Vietnamese coffee- is more dessert like.

Vietnamese Vegetarian Dishes

- Pho Chay- The veg version of Pho.
- Xoi or Com Chay- The vegetarian version of Xoi or Com (Sticky rice) is generally served with items as diverse as chickpeas, coconut, sugar, mushrooms, broccoli, pepper, red chilli and onion.
- Rau Muong Xao Toi is one of the healthiest Vietnamese dishes. It's made by picking out fresh water spinach and frying it with garlic and other Vietnamese herbs and served with a topping of peanut powder. This dish is available in almost all restaurants
- Goi cuon chay Vegetarian fresh Vietnamese spring rolls
- Banh Mi Chay is the vegetarian version of the famous Vietnamese snack Banh Mi. It is a French style baguette sandwich filled with tofu, cheese or fried eggs. You can even choose to have your Banh Mi filled only with vegetable salad filling.
- Bun dau mam tom - This plain-looking tofu and noodle dish is served with mam tom sauce – the Vegemite of Vietnam. The pungent purple dipping sauce is used to flavor the slabs of deep-fried tofu that are at the core of the meal.
- Banh Khoai Tay Chien or deep-fried Potato Cakes are made by mashing sweet potato, coconut and green beans all mashed, moulded into cakes and cooked or fried till golden brown. They are served with a peanut dipping and spices.
- Dau Sot Ca Chua is an authentic vegetarian Vietnamese dish which consists of yellow tofu pieces with slices of tomato, green onion and Vietnamese herbs. The dish offers a flavourful medley of soft tofu and fresh tomatoes and is best served with steamed rice

- Cai Xao Nam is a vegetarian Vietnamese dish made by frying bok choy with shitake mushrooms, served with steamed sticky rice and tofu pieces. The flavour of the shitake mushrooms is brought out by the bok choy and the mushroom or soy sauce that it is fried in, making it one of the most exquisite dishes of the vegetarian food in Vietnam

Additional Tips

- Unless particularly known for their veg or chicken/seafood options, avoid visiting the sidewalk restaurants
- Most of the other sit down restaurants will have menus in English but you can always use Google Translate camera feature to take a picture of the menu and translate it.
- Use the Google Translate app text to speech feature to also place your order or ask any questions.
- Remember-

Cultural Etiquette & Practical Tips

Understanding local customs can make your trip smoother and more respectful. Here's what to keep in mind while in Vietnam:

Greetings & Local Customs

- A slight bow or nod is a polite way to greet, especially elders.
- A handshake is acceptable, but always with a gentle grip.
- Address people using “Anh” (older male), “Chi” (older female), or “Em” (younger person), followed by their first name.

Do's and Don'ts

-  Dress modestly when visiting temples or pagodas (covered shoulders and knees).
-  Remove your shoes before entering someone's home or religious buildings.
-  Don't touch people's heads—considered sacred.
-  Avoid pointing your feet at people or religious symbols.

Dining Etiquette

- Use both hands to pass dishes or money—seen as respectful.
- Slurping noodles is not rude—it's a compliment to the cook!

Tipping Guide

- Tipping isn't mandatory but is appreciated:
 - Restaurant: ~10% if not included
 - Hotel bellhop: INR 100–150
 - Tour guides/drivers: INR 200–300/day

Packing Guidelines for Da Nang & Hoi An (May Travel)

May in Central Vietnam means tropical warmth, occasional humidity, and sunny beach days—so pack light, breathable, and sun-protective essentials. Here's a checklist for everything you'll need:

Clothing

- ✓ Lightweight cotton & linen outfits (shorts, dresses, T-shirts)
- ✓ One or two dressier outfits for upscale dinners (e.g. Ngon Villa, Madame Lan)
- ✓ Modest attire for temples (shoulders & knees covered)
- ✓ Swimwear (pool & beach)
- ✓ Beach cover-up / Sarong
- ✓ Light jacket or shawl (for AC, cable cars, or evenings in Ba Na Hills)

Footwear

- ✓ Comfortable walking shoes / trainers (for Marble Mountains, Hoi An Old Town)
- ✓ Flip-flops or sandals (beach & hotel)
- ✓ Hiking sandals or closed-toe shoes (Ban Co Peak, Son Tra)

Essentials

- ✓ Reef-safe sunscreen (SPF 30+)
- ✓ Sunglasses & wide-brim hat
- ✓ Insect repellent (especially for Son Tra & Lang Co Bay)
- ✓ Reusable water bottle (eco-friendly + hydration)
- ✓ Daypack or tote bag (for day trips & markets)

Travel Gear

- ✓ Universal power adapter (Vietnam uses Type A, C, & F plugs)
- ✓ Power bank & USB cables
- ✓ Travel-size umbrella or poncho (occasional tropical showers)
- ✓ Dry bag / ziplock bags (to protect electronics at the beach or boat rides)

Health & Hygiene

- ✓ Personal toiletries & hand sanitizer
- ✓ Wet wipes / tissues
- ✓ Motion sickness pills
- ✓ Any essential prescriptions + a basic first aid kit

 Pro Tip: Leave room in your suitcase for souvenirs like lanterns, handmade bags, or tailored clothes from Hoi An!

Currency Tips for Vietnam

Managing money in Vietnam is easy once you understand the basics of their currency and spending norms.

Currency Basics

- Official currency: Vietnamese Dong (VND)
- Typical exchange rate: ~INR 1 = 290–300 VND (may vary; check current rates)
- Common bills: VND 10,000; 20,000; 50,000; 100,000; 200,000; 500,000

 Tip: Always carry small bills. Many local vendors and taxis may not have change for VND 500,000 notes.

ATMs & Cash

- ATMs are widely available in Da Nang and Hoi An.
- Use ATMs from major banks like Vietcombank, BIDV, Techcombank.
- Most ATMs have a per-withdrawal limit of VND 2,000,000–3,000,000.
- International withdrawal fees may apply—check with your bank.

Card Use

- Cards (Visa/MasterCard) are accepted in hotels, large restaurants, and stores.
- Markets, small eateries prefer cash.
- Always inform your bank before traveling to avoid card blocks.

 Bonus Tip: Avoid currency exchange on the street. Exchange at licensed banks or your hotel desk for fair rates and safety.

Personal Safety & Emergency Contacts

Vietnam is generally safe for travelers, but like any destination, a few precautions can go a long way.

Areas to Be Cautious

- Nighttime travel in remote or poorly lit areas (especially outside Hoi An or Son Tra)
- Beaches after dark – avoid isolated areas
- Motorbike traffic – always use pedestrian crossings carefully

Common Scams

- Taxi meter rigging – Always use trusted apps like Grab for safe pricing
- Currency confusion – VND has high denominations; double-check notes before handing over
- Overpriced souvenirs in tourist zones – Bargain politely, and compare rates

Safety Tips

- Don't carry all your cash/cards in one place
- Use hotel safes for passports and valuables
- Be cautious at night markets; petty theft is rare but possible
- Carry a copy of your passport when exploring

Mobile Connectivity in Vietnam

Staying connected is easy and affordable throughout Vietnam. Here are your best options:

Local SIM Cards

- Recommended Carriers: Viettel, Vinaphone, Mobifone, of which our recommendation is Viettel
- Buy SIM cards at Da Nang Airport (after arrival) or convenience stores
- Cost: ~INR 500–700 for 7–10 days with unlimited data

Data Speed & Coverage

- 4G coverage is strong in Da Nang, Hoi An, and even along Hai Van Pass
- Wi-Fi is available in most cafés, hotels, and even markets

eSIM Option

- Use eSIM platforms like Airalo or Holafly if your phone supports digital SIMs (~INR 1,200–1,500 for 10 days)

 Pro Tip: Activate the SIM at the airport with help from staff to ensure APN settings are configured correctly.

Health & Vaccination Recommendations

Recommended Vaccinations for Vietnam

Most travelers visiting Vietnam should ensure they're up to date with routine vaccines and consider the following:

Vaccine	Recommendation
Hepatitis A	Recommended for all travelers
Hepatitis B	Recommended, especially if staying long or visiting rural areas
Typhoid	Recommended if you're exploring local markets, street food
Tetanus & Diphtheria	Ensure booster is updated (every 10 years)
Japanese Encephalitis	Optional, for longer stays or visits to rural areas during monsoon
Rabies	Not essential for city travelers but consider if interacting with animals or visiting rural areas

No Yellow Fever requirement for travelers from India.

Medications to Carry

- Prescription meds (in original packaging + doctor's note if needed)
- Pain relief (paracetamol, ibuprofen)
- Motion sickness pills
- Anti-diarrheal
- Mosquito repellent
- Basic first aid (band-aids, antiseptic, allergy meds)

 Pharmacy Tip: Most pharmacies in Da Nang are well-stocked, but carry your essential meds from home, especially prescription ones.
